WITH YOU FROM THE START.

Most great stories start at the beginning. Ours begins at the ending. And by “ours,” we don’t just mean American Fiber & Finishing’s. Yes, it’s our story – but it’s our customers’ story as well – because ours is a story of PARTNERSHIP.

We know where our partners want to be at the end of the day: with a job well done. A perfect finish. To get there, they need a partner who understands this from the start, and who can help get them there.

As America’s largest provider of light and medium weight woven industrial fabrics and the second largest maker of cotton balls, we’ve done a lot of partnering in our 100+ years. We’ve partnered with clients from the ultra-demanding Aerospace and Aircraft Manufacturing industries, as well as such widely diverse categories as Automotive, Bookbinding, Filtration, Health & Beauty, Industrial Wiping and Cleaning, and Textiles. We invite you to partner with us as well.

WITH YOU ALONG THE WAY.

Our concept of PARTNERSHIP embraces a PROCESS. It’s called collaboration. In other words, you talk and we listen. And we’re prepared to talk and listen about almost anything you need.

The fact is, we have many solutions to your needs. They’re in stock, tried and tested, and ready to go. It’s also true you may have needs that can’t be readily met with “off the shelf” offerings. When that happens, we’ll sit with you to find a solution together. When the commitment is to the end result, that commitment includes finding a way to achieve it.

The concept of teamwork runs deep at AF&F and it means we not only share goals and ideas with our clients – we listen to their ideas too. We collaborate with all our customers and take great pride in reaching great outcomes as a product of this collegiality.

IN THE END, IT’S ALL ABOUT THE FINISH.

Races aren’t won until the finish line is crossed – no matter how well they’re run along the way. All the Partnership and Process in the world isn’t worth talking about if the results aren’t there at the end of the road. It’s the Performance that counts the most – and we deliver because we help you deliver.
